

Cambridge 18⁶⁹/₇₅

My Dear Mr Seale

I do not know where the papers upon the photometry measures of the stars are, but have an indistinct impression that they have been collected up by my son - who was quite fearful that they would get put away among the archives of the observatory where they might remain for some time in obscurity of the want of means, in their publication.

I wish to see you in reference to the other-various matters with the Backs firm - and how they we shall be able to make a selection for publication under the Backs contributions to science - which was a very distinct part of the injurious contract by which the money was obtained. It will be exceedingly unfortunate if we cannot find some way to provide for the satisfaction of the observatory in this matter.

Yours very faithfully

Benjamin Price

P.S. My true direction is

McCulloch, Pulster & Co

41 Lombard Street

London

B. Peirce
June 25, 1875